

College Updates

Please join us for a tailgate Nov. 5! Please join us for the Nebraska vs. Northwestern Big Red tailgate Saturday, Nov. 5. We will begin serving at noon in Harold and Marian Andersen Hall at 200 Centennial Mall North - on 16th Street between P and Q streets. Special guests will include members of the Nebraska Broadcasters Association board of directors and members of our new 2011 College Advisory Board.

Please reply to Nicki Paulsen (npaulsen2@unlnotes.unl.edu) by Friday, Oct. 28, to let her know if you will be joining us and if you plan to bring a guest, or RSVP online. Directions to Andersen Hall are available online.

J Alumni News launches new format J Alumni News will be now come to you via a notification to your email inbox. This method of delivery will allow us to provide you with more timely information about our students, events, visitors, international travels, faculty and staff activities - everything that makes us a great Big Ten college!

This first issue has articles about two college programs - study abroad and Innovators in Residence - some faculty and student news and an alumna profile:

- The college offered three study abroad trips this past summer to Russia, India and Southeast Asia.
- Associate professor Joe Weber, who specializes in business and economics journalism, is teaching in China this fall.

- Sue Burzynski Bullard and Michelle Hassler won a teaching award from the news division of the Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communications in August.
- Students in the advertising and public relations sequence are collaborating with students in the Design Studio in the Jeffrey S. Raikes School of Computer Science and Management.

- Student Alissa Skelton was invited to cover the Wal-Mart shareholders' meeting in Fayetteville, Ark., for The New York Times.
- Alumna Mijoe Sahiouni, an AAF Most Promising Minority Student, begins an exciting career in advertising and public relations in L.A.
- As part of the Innovators in Residence Program, launched a year ago by Dean Gary Keibel, the college hosted two innovators this fall: Susan Poulton, a National Geographic executive, and Shiv Bhaskar David, an Indian media entrepreneur.

We are excited about the new e-newsletter format and hope that you look forward to receiving the J school news approximately every six weeks. Please contact us if you have any suggestions or questions. We can be reached at cojmc@unlnotes.unl.edu.
