College of Journalism and Mass Communications Sneak
Peek

Thank you video

First place in the National Student Advertising Competition. Top story in the Hearst Awards. A photojournalism student trip to India.

Soon you will be hearing about these exciting achievements and more from your College of Journalism and Mass Communications.

But good things come to those who don't wait, too. Like this video created by CoJMC students. Please take three-and-a-half minutes to hear firsthand from students and alums about the value of giving to the college.

When you are contacted by a University of Nebraska student we hope you will give to support your College of Journalism and Mass Communications.
